

PINK CANDLE RITUAL

FOR TRANSFORMING ENERGY

You will need:

- A large pale pink tower candle (for loving kindness, not in glass to avoid drowning out the wick)
- Rose incense or Rose essential oil (optional, only if you have it)
- The intention to help transform the energy around you and another or others

Directions:

1. Write your intention, speak it out loud to your Spirit Guides (place under candle).
2. Take a moment before lighting the candles - Call deep within yourself and Allow your Divine Higher Nature to come forward in your Being. Feel and see it shine from within and without you.
3. With the full power and love of the Divine Energy within - Light the pink candle bringing in happy sharing and kindness and mutual support. Feel it emotionally ✨
4. Keep the candle burning each day until the situation changes
5. You can use battery candles if needed - same ritual as you turn it on and off.
6. See it as already manifest 🌀 ✨ and give thanks ❤️
7. This is a powerful use of the power you have to transform lower energy to a much higher vibration.
8. Pinch out the candles. Don't blow out.
9. Your friend, family or co-workers will all of a sudden start acting more considerate of you and each other. A unity core that's been missing will re-emerge stronger and kinder and with more respect than before. Life will become easy and supportive.
10. When the situation changes you can't tell anyone what you did to help it. Using your power is an inside job!

😊 Enjoy using the power you were blessed with 🌟
